WTS-BOSTON TO SPONSOR BOOTH AT 2007 ALTWHEELS FESTIVAL

Boston, MA --- As evidence of the growing concern for global warming and transportation, Women's Transportation Seminar (WTS) - Boston has increased its involvement in, and support of the AltWheels Festival for 2007. WTS-International and several chapters, including host chapter, Boston are sponsoring AltWheels at the Silver level. A multi-chapter exhibit, made of sustainable materials provided by the Portland Oregon Chapter, will showcase sustainable transportation and energy projects from the participating chapter locations. The exhibit booth will be staffed by members from the Boston, Connecticut, Greater New York, Rhode Island, London, and Portland, Oregon Chapters of WTS.

The 5th Annual AltWheels Alternative Transportation and Energy Festival will be held on September 28th and September 29th at Boston City Hall Plaza. AltWheels provides "one-stop shopping for transportation and energy solutions to unclog our roads, reduce our dependence on oil, cut our greenhouse-gas emissions and generally inspire people to protect and preserve our environment." For more information about the event, visit www.AltWheels.org.

Founded in 1977, WTS is an international organization dedicated to advancing women in transportation. Boasting more than 4,700 members – both men and women – WTS helps women find opportunity and recognition in the transportation industry. WTS-Boston, one the largest of over 40 chapters, fulfills the organization's mission through professional development activities, networking opportunities, unparalleled access to industry and government leaders, and through opportunities to "give back" such as participating in AltWheels.
